

Final 2011 Biennial Survey Questions Released

With only nine days left until the start of the Biennial Survey, depositories are reminded that all answers must be reviewed and approved by your institution's library director or designee prior to submission. Now is an ideal time to prepare your institution's answers.

Draft questions were released in June 2011; however, three changes have been made to the draft questions:

- * Question 11: Added the ability to specify a location if "Other location" is selected.
- * Question 29: Added a "Not applicable" option.
- * Question 30: Modified the question to include other types of depository notification (e.g., emblem and/or language) displayed to the public.

The 2011 Biennial Survey launches on Friday, September 30. All Federal depository libraries are required to complete this survey.
